

Wine Descriptions

Chateau Pontet-Canet, Pauillac (2016) – $170

100 points from Wine Enthusiast. “A voluptuous wine, magnificent structure.”

99 points from Vinous. “Powerful, ample and racy in the glass, exquisitely well-balanced young Pontet-Canet.”

98 points Robert Parker’s Wine Advocate. “Hits the ground running with a hedonistic nose, finishing with incredible length and depth.”

Vina Alamaviva Puente Alto, Chile (2017) – $129

100 points from James Suckling. Nicknamed “The Opus One of Chile,” Alamaviva combines the best of Chile’s terroir with the finest Bordeaux winemaking tradition. Best to drink in 2025 or after.

Teeter Totter Cabernet Sauvignon, Napa (2017) – $60

A luxury Napa powerhouse from a 100-point winemaker, Teeter Totter is crafted by Benoit Touquette who combined his world-renowned expertise with premium sources to craft a stunning and unbeatable bargain.

Fuligni Brunello di Montalcino Vigneti Dei Cottimelli (2015) – $89

100 points from James Suckling

98 points from Wine Enthusiast

Chateau Smith Haut Lafitte Pessac-Leognan (2016) – $129

98 points from Robert Parker’s Wine Advocate

98 points from Decanter

Bodegas Muga “Prada Enea” Rioja (2010) – $70

99 points from James Suckling: “It takes your breath away.” This iconic Spanish red has long been a favorite of critics.

Bergstrom Temperance Hill Pinot Noir, Willamette Valley (2017) – $70

97 points from James Suckling: “Fascinating Pinot...that is really unique.” Bergstrom pinots are a favorite of the Wine Spectator.

Rodney Strong Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon, Sonoma (2015) – $40

97 points from Decanter

Kosta Browne One Sixteen Chardonnay, Russian River (2017) – $75

97 points from Jeb Dunnock. With a cult following ever since the Wine Spectator declared its Pinot Noir the #1 Wine in the World, Kosta Browne also makes an exceptional Chardonnay.

Kistler “Les Noisetiers” Chardonnay, Sonoma Coast (2018) – $60

KL Wines: “One of the most luxurious and complex white wines made in this county, possessing a mineralogy rare in New World Chardonnay.”

Chateau Fontaine-Audon Sancerre (2018) – $23

The Bollinger Family’s stunning Loire value. Wine Access says, “This Sancerre, owned by the quality-obsessed Bollinger Champagne house, ticks every box to qualify for greatness.”

Billecart-Salmon Brut Rose Champagne (Non-Vintage) – $85

The benchmark in rose champagne, fine and delicate.